

and

announce a breakfast symposium

Helping You Navigate GHG Compliance Issues at Various Regulatory Levels

Tuesday, March 23, 2010, 7:30 AM – 10:00 AM
Environmental Training Center Anaheim Campus
1830 W. Romneya Dr, Anaheim, CA 92801

Greenhouse gas (GHG) regulations are changing rapidly and there are multiple regulatory agencies that require compliance or will be involved in compliance determinations – California Air Resources Board (CARB), Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD). Come to our breakfast symposium and learn how to navigate through the regulatory maze and understand how current and upcoming requirements pertain to your facility. Panel members and their topics include:

Overview and Comparison of CARB and EPA's GHG Programs

Presented by Christina Schwerdtfeger, PhD, REA, who is President of Coto Consulting, Inc. She has 23 years experience as an environmental consultant and is an accredited GHG lead verifier with CARB. She teaches in UC Irvine's Sustainability Leadership Program and has a PhD in chemistry. She was recently awarded the Climate Change Business Journal's first annual Business Achievement Award recognizing her expertise in the practice of climate change.

How do the Proposed GHG PSD and Cap-and-Trade Programs, and Renewable Energy Requirements Interrelate with Each Other?

Presented by Robert Romansik, who is a Senior Principal Engineer with MACTEC Engineering and Consulting, Inc. He has over 27 years experience specializing in air pollution control, air quality permitting and compliance. He has a Bachelors of Science in Chemical Engineering from Youngstown State University.

A Local Perspective on How to Capture Synergies and Avoid Conflicts with Local, State, and Federal GHG Programs

Presented by Jill Whynot, who is the Director of Strategic Initiatives for SCAQMD, where she has worked for over 21 years on policy and rule development efforts. Jill has a Bachelor of Science and a Masters of Science in Environmental and Occupational Health Science from California State University, Northridge.

To register, please call or email Taffy Kennedy (714) 808-4613, tkennedy@sce.edu. Registration is free of charge. Courtesy continental breakfast included.

(You will have to pay $2 parking in the lot.)
Sign up NOW, space is limited!